A Premier Producer of Bordeaux Varietal Wines - Co-founded by Dan and Margaret Duckhorn in 1976, Duckhorn Vineyards has spent more than 30 years establishing itself as one of North America's premier producers of Bordeaux varietal wines. From its modest inaugural vintage of 800 cases of Cabernet Sauvignon and 800 cases of Merlot in 1978, to its addition of Sauvignon Blanc in 1982, Duckhorn Vineyards has crafted a tradition of quality and excellence that continues today. Merlot Focus - Fundamental to that tradition was the early decision by Duckhorn Vineyards to focus on the production of Merlot. Though many Napa Valley wineries were using Merlot as a blending grape in the late seventies, few were exploring the potential of this varietal as a stand-alone wine. A great fan of Merlot since traveling to St. Emilion and Pomerol, Dan Duckhorn felt that this elegant varietal was under appreciated in North America. "I liked the softness, the seductiveness, the color," says Dan, "the fact that it went with a lot of different foods; it wasn't so bold, didn't need to age so long, and it had this velvety texture to it. It seemed to me to be a wonderful wine to just enjoy. I became enchanted with Merlot."

Goldeneye Winery was founded in 1996, years before the Pinot Noir boom that has reshaped the landscape of California winemaking. But the genesis for Goldeneye goes back even further. In 1990, after fifteen years of making world-class Bordeaux-varietal wines, Dan and Margaret Duckhorn embraced their growing love of Pinot Noir. Their vision for Goldeneye was simple, though not easy. They wanted to found a winery that could make a terroir-inspired expression of California Pinot Noir of equal stature to the acclaimed Merlots they had pioneered at Duckhorn Vineyards in Napa Valley. The Duckhorn's knew that in both the Old and New World, the finest Pinot Noir thrives in very different conditions than Merlot. For Pinot Noir, they believed that true greatness would be found on the cool-climate edges of modern California viticulture where the grape could express varietal purity and an intimate sense of place.

#130161	PARADUXX "Z" BLEND 2015	6X750	$ 52.90/61.99
---------	-------------------------	-------	----------------

Since being founded in 1994, Paraduxx has earned acclaim as the only winery solely devoted to stylish Napa Valley blends. Artfully crafted to appeal to the modern palate, the visionary blends of the Paraduxx portfolio have established a reputation for their bold, expressive character and their food-friendly sophistication. Every great tradition begins as an innovation. Duckhorn Wine Company originally created Paraduxx to allow its winemakers the freedom to explore other styles without detracting from Duckhorn Vineyards' focus on Bordeaux varietals. In 1994, Paraduxx sourced 4 tons of Zinfandel from the 100-year-old vines of Napa's Korte Vineyard. This Zinfandel was blended with Duckhorn Vineyards' own estate Cabernet Sauvignon, along with smaller amounts of Merlot and Petite Sirah to create the first Paraduxx vintage.

Calera is a vision, and Calera's wines truly express the sense of place. Rather than follow the recommended path, Josh Jensen became a pioneer in American Pinot Noir. Taking his cue from the great domaines of Burgundy, which have grown grapes in limestone soil for centuries, he set out in search of the perfect spot in California to create wines unique to the world but in the style of the greatest wines of France. Site selection was vital as he ventured off the grid to plant on the site of an old limekiln in the Gavilan Mountains of California's Central Coast. Today Calera wines still express that pioneer spirit and are revered the world over. We are proud to report that even Robert Parker is convinced: "Calera is one of the most compelling Pinot Noir specialists of not only the New World, but of Planet Earth."

Keeper Vineyards is nestled in the western slopes of Yountville, California in the Napa Valley. It is a family-owned and operated winery, producing exquisite Cabernet Sauvignon from the family's six acres of rocky, hillside vineyards. We are enchanted by our vineyards because they really are nestled into the hillsides and are growing in loamy, well-drained soil that's more rock than anything else. One of the vineyard managers suggested that we are engaging in hydroponics farming - rocks, water and roots but no soil. In addition to the six acres of Cabernet Sauvignon, we planted one-third of an acre to Sauvignon Blanc. The Cabernet Sauvignon consists of four clones and two different rootstocks. Each was chosen specifically for the block(s) where it is growing. We are very pleased with the planting decisions by our vineyard management company, Barbour Vineyards, and the wonderful fruit that is being produced.

Miljenko "Mike" Grgich first gained international recognition at the celebrated "Paris Tasting" of 1976. Then, in a now-historic blind tasting, a panel of eminent French judges swirled, sniffed, and sipped an array of the fabled white Burgundies of France and a small sampling of upstart Chardonnays from the Napa Valley. When their scores were tallied, the French judges were shocked: they had chosen the 1973 Chateau Montelena Chardonnay, crafted by Mike Grgich, as the finest white wine in the world. Mon Dieu! The results stunned the international wine establishment and immediately earned Mike a reputation as one of the greatest winemakers in the world.

Today, we remain committed to making distinctive wines with quality, consistency and longevity. We are proud that world leaders such as Presidents Reagan and Clinton, Queen Elizabeth II and French President François Mitterrand chose our wines to serve at state dinners, but we are just as proud that every single day discriminating wine drinkers count on Grgich Hills to turn their own dinners into special occasions.

We treat each of our six different wines as a special child, carefully nurturing their development and character. Our pride and joy is our Chardonnay, an elegant example of the varietal displaying rich flavors and exquisite balance. As a complement to the Chardonnay, we also produce a refreshingly crisp Fume Blanc, a rich and spicy Zinfandel, a Cabernet Sauvignon with tremendous depth and complexity, a lush and richly fragrant Merlot and a luscious dessert wine named "Violetta," in honor of Mike's daughter, Violet.

In 1961, Joe and Alice purchased their first vineyard, 8 acres just south of St. Helena. Working out of the small winery attached to the parcel, they put in round-the-clock sweat equity to build their business.

Heitz Wine Cellars rapidly established a reputation as home base for one of the Napa Valley's most innovative and brilliant winemakers, and the unassuming winery soon became a prestigious destination for wine connoisseurs. In 1964, the Heitz family acquired a 160-acre vineyard property in Spring Valley, a small fold in the eastern hills of St. Helena. Joe sharpened his focus on Cabernet, and the following year, he and Alice made a serendipitous connection with Tome and Martha May who owned a young vineyard in Oakville. After a handshake deal firm enough to last decades and a single harvest of the May's remarkable Cabernet grapes, Joe and Tom agreed to reserve the fruit from the next harvest for a singular production.

In 1966, Joe crafted the first Martha's Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon --- a wine so remarkable that the two families decided to add a vineyard designation to the Heitz Cellars' label, initiating that concept in the Napa Valley.

At Buccella, we're especially interested in origins. Our own story began over a beautiful bottle of wine.

It was our first date. When we met, we were two individuals with distinct dreams, but we soon found our shared passion for wine would unite our paths to create Buccella.

We savor wine for its ability to bring people together, initiate new relationships, and celebrate life's most momentous occasions.

A well-crafted wine not only creates memories, it nourishes the true enjoyment of life. For these reasons, we have pursued our shared dream of making the best wine we can.

Our dream has not been without obstacles. But they have inspired us to work tirelessly, handcrafting wines that reflect our shared commitment to creating memories and enhancing life's celebrations. It is a privilege to create wine that is an important ingredient in shaping your stories, your enjoyment of life. We hope that every bottle of Buccella helps build a memory for you and those with whom you share it.

When Raymond T. Duncan first visited the Napa Valley in the late 1960s, he was taken by the region's rugged beauty. He was also wise enough to understand the potential of the fledgling wine industry. In the 1970's, he began to buy land in both Napa and Alexander Valleys with the goal of planting vineyards. But with his home and business in Colorado and no viticulture expertise of his own, Ray approached Justin Meyer, whom he'd met through mutual friends, and asked him to plant and manage the vineyards. Then working at Christian Brothers, Justin agreed with one condition: in addition to managing the vineyards, he wanted to create a winery that would forever raise the standards of California wine. The year was 1972, and Silver Oak Cellars began. Ray and Justin had a bold and unconventional vision for their winery. Rather than producing six or seven varietals, they would devote all their resources to producing a single wine – Cabernet Sauvignon. What's more, their wine would be a new style of Cabernet Sauvignon, rich and complex, deliciously drinkable from the day it was released, yet worthy of cellaring for years to come. To achieve this end, they committed to an extensive aging program of approximately 25 months in American oak barrels, and 15–20 months of cellaring in bottle. Two Estates - In 1972, Silver Oak's Alexander Valley vineyards produced the harvest that would become the winery's first vintage of Cabernet Sauvignon. That same year, Ray purchased an old dairy farm in Oakville, and he and Justin began planting Silver Oak's first Napa Valley vineyard. Seven years later, they harvested the grapes for their first Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon. Since that time, Silver Oak has produced two wines each vintage, a Napa Valley and an Alexander Valley Cabernet Sauvignon. Eventually, true to their original vision, Ray and Justin built two wineries, each devoted to producing just one wine. In 1981, on the site of the old dairy farm in Oakville, they broke ground on their Napa Valley winery, and in 1992 they purchased and renovated the beautiful Tudor-style estate in Geyserville that is home to the Alexander Valley Cabernet

TWOMEY CELLARS IS PART OF THE SILVER OAK FAMILY!

Our family established Twomey Cellars to pursue the discovery of varietals in California beyond Cabernet Sauvignon. We use the same philosophy that has guided Silver Oak since its founding in 1972: make exceptional, food-friendly wines that are deliciously drinkable upon release. We're able to apply our 40 years of winemaking experience combined with a spirit of innovation to create our Merlot, Pinot Noir and Sauvignon Blanc. With a focus on excellence and sustainability, we source fruit from some of the best appellations and vineyard sites in California. At our wineries in Calistoga and Healdsburg, we work small to create unique, approachable wines that you will enjoy with friends and family.

In the late 60's when my family started to grow wine grapes in Napa Valley, there was no one to show them the way. The land focuses our energies, as it always has, challenging us to understand its soils, the vines that grow in them, and the way fog drifts through the rows in the morning. It is an eternal learning process - each question answered reveals another be asked - but it's a journey we love to take with each and every vintage. It also defines us and the wines we make, providing the vital essence of every bottle that bears our name. Decisions made in the vineyard and cellar not only guide the expression of the land, but affect the very soul of the wine. For this reason, we have always committed ourselves to estate production, adamant that we should be the ones growing the grapes and turning them into wine. Our passion requires it.

A century later, the Miller family began the journey Stevenson described, establishing Silverado Vineyards in 1981. "It was beautiful land, and it was land that was working," says Diane Miller of their first vineyards, purchased in the 1970s. Diane and Ron sold their grapes to some of Napa's best vintners, who made award winning wines from them year after year. Encouraged, they struck out on their own with the goal of making the best wines the estate could produce at a fair price. This has remained the guiding philosophy over the years. The winery's name, Silverado, comes from the abandoned mining town at the top of the Napa Valley, where Stevenson stayed so many years ago. It is an appropriate symbol: three generations of the Miller family are still "prospecting" for wine, staying true to the idea of coaxing something precious from the soils we are privileged to care for.

Most people know Thomas Brown as the consulting winemaker with the Midas touch. His wines made for the likes of Schrader Cellars, Maybach, and Outpost regularly hit, or at least flirt with 100 point scores from Robert Parker and the Wine Spectator. With more than a dozen clients, Brown didn't have to worry about finding cellar space for his wines. Summa Vineyard is well known in the circle of Sonoma County Pinot Noir lovers who have made Williams-Selyem's wines the cult phenomenon that they are today. For years, all of the vineyard's fruit, some of it from the oldest Pinot Noir vines on the Sonoma Coast, went into those wines, many of which were some of the most sought after Pinots in the state.

The Schramsberg estate is tucked into the densely forested slopes of Diamond Mountain, a few miles south of the town of Calistoga, and is home to the oldest hillside vineyards in Napa. It totals 218 acres with 43 acres planted to vines. The estate, a registered historic landmark, has been painstakingly restored by the Davies family. The Victorian house, the lower winery, the barn and the caves remain largely unchanged since Jacob Schram's days. Schramsberg has also played a role in world history. The Blanc de Blancs was used for President Nixon's 1972 "Toast to Peace" with China's Premier Zhou Enlai. Schramsberg's sparkling wines have been served at official State functions by every U.S. Presidential administration since.

Our Team is an extension of an extraordinary family, one that eats, drinks and breathes a lifelong passion for wine. That passion is in every bottle of Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Zinfandel we produce. There's no cutting corners or making compromises. Our fathers taught us to be the best at what we do, and always produce something we can be proud of. Nothing else will suffice, period. The family owns the renowned Cohn Vineyard atop a mountain near Healdsburg.

The Hagen Years - In 1852, young Henry Hagen arrives on a West Coast in the throes of continental expansion and the Gold Rush. He initially settles in San Francisco but in 1881 turns his attention slightly north, purchasing a parcel of land in the southern end of nearby Napa Valley, against the forested ridges of Mount George. There he founds Cedar Knoll Vineyard and Winery, where the Palmaz Vineyards and family reside today, just off what's now known as Hagen Road.

Hagen will become one of the true pioneers of the Napa Valley: His noteworthy wines are featured at the San Francisco Opera House and served to some of the finest people of the city, according to contemporary newspaper accounts. Hagen even wins a silver medal for his brandy at L'Exposition Universelle de Paris 1889 World's Fair. From Prohibition to Revival - Hagen dies in 1895, leaving behind 450 acres of "fine vineland." While Cedar Knoll is lauded for its wines (and spirits), Hagen's descendants don't share his passion. With the arrival of Prohibition in 1919, the property's winemaking endeavors are abandoned until the Palmaz family purchases the property in the late 1990s and sets about restoring its former glory. The Fusion of Tradition and Technology - Julio and Amalia Palmaz have always believed that if given the proper attention and care, their land can produce excellent wine for generations. Along with their children, Florencia and Christian Gastón (and Christian's wife, Jessica Louise), they set about creating a winery that leverages tradition and technology in the service of crafting great vintages. The result is a 600-acre estate with 64 acres of vineyards that produce truly modern vintages, thanks to the technology harnessed in support of the art of winemaking.

St. Supéry Estate Vineyards & Winery is the largest family owned, sustainably farmed and estate produced winery in Napa Valley. Our land and our winery are certified Napa Green.

The Skalli Family, founders of St. Supéry Estate, first began making wine in 1920. Beginning in the 1970's, Robert Skalli spent eight years searching for the perfect location to expand his family's business to Napa Valley. Robert selected a relatively unknown area high in the northeastern mountains of the newly established Napa Valley appellation to plant his dream. Thirty three years later, the world-class vineyard estates in Napa Valley were sold to Chanel. Inc.

At St. Supéry we have a long term commitment to the vineyards and winery and are personally invested in acting as stewards of the land, preserving the properties for future generations. Our Napa Green Certifications for the winery and vineyards are evidence of this commitment. This approach and long term investment in Estate properties also gives us the ability to maintain consistency in grape and wine quality over time.

Organically grown - First certified by California Certified Organic Farmers (CCOF) in 1988 Frog's Leap has been a leader in the industry for over two decades. The winery relies on techniques such as crop rotation, green manure, compost and biological pest control to maintain soil productivity and control pests on a farm. Organic farming excludes the use of manufactured fertilizers and pesticides, plant growth regulators and genetically modified organisms. Organic farming involves mechanical weed control (via cultivating or hoeing) rather than herbicidal weed control. BioDynamic Practices -Biodynamic agriculturalists conceive of the farm as an organically self-contained entity with its own individuality, within which organisms are interdependent. Emphasis is placed on the integration of crops and livestock, recycling of nutrients, maintenance of soil, and the health and well being of crops and animals; the farmer too is part of the whole. Thinking about the interactions within the farm ecosystem naturally leads to a series of holistic management practices that address the environmental, social, and financial aspects of the farm. Frog's Leap uses cover crops, green manures and crop rotations extensively to foster bio-diversity, soil health and overall farm wellbeing. Dry Farming -Though Frog's Leap employs the methods of Dry Farming because of the impact it has on wine quality, the practice has been identified by the state of California as an incredible water conservation tool.

Established in 1972, Jordan Vineyard & Winery was inspired by the great wine estates of France and created as an homage to the timeless connection between food, wine and hospitality. A relentless commitment to this tenet helped make Jordan one of the top Cabernet Sauvignon brands in California. Founders Tom and Sally Jordan were maverick pioneers with a unique vision. They wanted to be the first to create a Bordeaux-style California Cabernet Sauvignon that was approachable while young yet aged gracefully. Located in Sonoma's Alexander Valley, the home for their wine would be an extraordinary winery chateau combining winemaking facilities, guest suites, and kitchen and dining areas under one roof. The couple set a standard for American wine quality and wine country hospitality—a top standard that is still held at Jordan today—making it one of the best Sonoma wineries to visit in Healdsburg. Under the guidance of second-generation vintner John Jordan and Rob Davis, the winemaker whose hands have crafted every vintage of Jordan since the inaugural 1976, Jordan Vineyard & Winery continues to innovate and elevate through award-winning wines and hospitality. From advancements in fruit sourcing, oak aging, precision farming and conserving natural resources to diversifying agriculture and creating new visitor experiences at our Healdsburg winery, Jordan maintains a relentless quest to improve with every vintage.

Cristom Vineyards hangs its hat on a well earned reputation for making exceptional Pinot Noir. Their rich track record of excellence is the result of a twenty-year collaboration between three men - an engineer, a biochemist and a farmer - who are, first and foremost, stewards of the land. Strengthened by an independent and pragmatic spirit and the belief that great wine begins in the vineyard, their partnership illustrates the unique blend of tradition, modernity and finesse that defines Cristom's Wines.

Our estate vineyards are certified sustainable LIVE (Low Input Viticulture and Enology), and have been since 2007. The LIVE designation helps remind us to be consciously aware of the long-term health, viability and fertility of the entire property, not just the land under vine. We're proud of our commitment. In the vineyard, we work tirelessly to reduce or eliminate synthetic fertilizers, pesticides and fungicides. We protect natural our resources including energy, water, soil, and wildlife habitats. We particularly care about the ecological health of Oregon's watershed, and work with LIVE and Salmon Safe to promote responsible farming practices and help keep our rivers and streams ecologically sound.

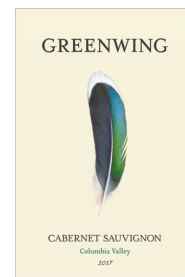

Cristom wines are made using responsible viticultural and enological practices. We're really proud of that.

To create wines that are as complex as they are captivating, Canvasback is following the model established decades ago by Duckhorn Vineyards, and will ultimately combine grapes from top growers with fruit from Canvasback's own estate vineyard. The Canvasback team has already established great relationships with the growers who farm some of the appellation's most esteemed vineyards, including Klipsun, La Coyo, Shaw and Quintessence. In 2013, Canvasback put down roots on Red Mountain when it acquired a 20-acre unplanted vineyard site. Located near the top of the mountain, above the frost zone at an elevation of approximately 1,100 to 1,300 feet, the site was widely recognized as the most coveted uncultivated site of the mountain. Guided by Washington winegrowing legend and Canvasback vineyard manager Dick Boushey, and founding winemaker Brian Rudin, Canvasback began planting its Red Mountain vineyard predominantly to Cabernet Sauvignon in 2014.

The Pio Cesare winery was founded in 1881 by our great great-grandfather Cesare Pio. He was one of the very first wine producers to believe in the great potential and quality of Barolo, Barbaresco, Barbera and in the other great wines of Piemonte. Cesare Pio, in the second portion of 1800s, was among the very first winemakers to produce these wines with a philosophy that was dedicated to the terroir and the strictest quality of the wine. For five generations, the Pio Cesare family has been producing traditional Piemontese wines in its ancient cellars, located in the center of the town of Alba. The cellars walls date back to the Roman Empire period , 50 B.C. Recently, significant investments have been made to rebuild and restructure the cellars and the winery's facilities. Pio Cesare owns more than 50 hectares (130 acres) of vineyards, located in the most highly rated and better exposed areas. Within the Barolo region, the "Ornato" Estate and the "Colombaro" Vineyard (in Serralunga d'Alba), the "Gustava" Estate (in Grinzane Cavour), the "Roncaglie" (in La Morra) and "Ravera" (Barolo- Novello). Within the Barbaresco territory, the "Il Bricco" Estate and the "San Stefanetto" Vineyard in Treiso Other selected vineyards are located in the communes of Diano d'Alba, Sinio and Trezzo. In addition to its own vineyards, Pio Cesare has fostered long-term relationships with growers for several generations and manages all aspects of viticulture in these vineyards. These growers have been selling grapes to the family for generations.

The name "Sassoalloro" comes from a boulder of volcanic origin of extraordinary dimensions on which the centuries have created many legends. This wine is produced from a special selection of Tuscan Sangiovese Grosso treated very carefully in the fermentation and aged in wood barrels Tronçais forest. A new wine, which is continuing the tradition of the Biondi Santi family for the quality and variety of products, comes from the canons of the great age and expresses all the characteristics of the Sangiovese Grosso di Montalcino, different characters, in the market today.

In 1989 Cantina Valpolicella Negrar started an extensive Quality Project that pinpointed locations particularly suited to vineyards. This in-depth study was conducted alongside wine-growers in order to produce high quality grapes. Over the years their meticulous work has enabled the production of new cru wines and the Domini Veneti label.

Domini Veneti is the name used for the best wines in the winery's range. These wines are named after the lands ruled by the Serenissima Republic of Venice in the 16th century when it was at the height of its power. The Valpolicella area came under its rule around that time. Today, this golden age is reflected in the quality and reputation of the wines in the Domini Veneti range. As a result of this longterm project, Cantina Valpolicella Negrar now offers its customers all over the world exquisite wines that capture the hallmarks of this region.

Whether tasting our Chianti Classico 2013 is your first experience with Dievole or you are a long-term lover of the brand, one thing is certain: Dievole has been producing wine since 1090 and the company has been continuously evolving in the past few years. A look at past labels tells a story of change, but also consistency.

In 1985, an ornate, heraldic label in black and white graced our Chianti Classico. The name refers to the closest vineyard to the hamlet “Colombaio”, a heritage from the noble Family of Malavolti from Siena, former owners of Dievole property for several centuries. The later 80s and 90s brought in a new era – the Dievole logo and a graphic label that put emphasis on the wine itself. The gold background – which, over the years has been solid, striped or mottled – represents the land itself, the terroir of this special Chianti Classico wine. At times, the label reads “Villa Dievole” rather than just “Dievole”, putting an emphasis on the hospitality of this place, something it has always offered. 2013 marks a new era for Dievole, a Renaissance of the winery in which these themes all come together: heritage and land, hospitality and people. The Chianti Classico 2013 is the first Dievole wine to fully communicate the uniqueness of this terroir and Dievole’s respect for it. The label reflects the wine within, and the new production philosophy: elegant, fresh and complex with beautiful aromas that reflect our ancient territory. It is the Most Classic of Chianti Classico.

The history of the Nardini family is characterized by passion and dedication, by their love for the local territory and by quality. It is the history of Italy’s oldest distillery, founded by Bortolo Nardini in 1779 on the Ponte Vecchio, the iconic bridge leading into the town of Bassano del Grappa. For over two centuries, this passion has been nurtured and handed down from one generation to the next. Since 1779 the company has always been run by members of the Nardini family, becoming part of the prestigious international association of bicentenary family-run firms “Les Henokiens”. The members of the Nardini family have dedicated their whole life to their local territory, birthplace of a product that remains as valuable as ever. The company is now managed by the seventh generation of the family, and Angelo, Antonio, Cristina and Leonardo Nardini continue to promote a product that has come to symbolize Italian excellence all over the world.

Since Bodegas y Vinedos Artadi S.A. was founded in 1985, our firm conviction has always been:

“The value of great wines is closely related to the Soil and the People”

Today, this spirit is still alive within us and we enjoy producing unique wines in the three different winemaking regions.

Alava - Navarra - Alicante.

Soils full of life, different climates and indigenous grape varieties with character.

Towards the close of the 1970's, the married couple formed by the Tarragona journalist Charles Pastrana and the Barcelona enologist Mariona Jarque embarked on their life adventure, devoting their professional and family future to the project of recovering the wines of El Priorat and of making their wines internationally known. Thirty years later, together with their two children, Guillem and Iona - who represent the essential future of this storey-, they have consolidated a project that is now known and acknowledged around the world.

Marqués de Murrieta's foundation is linked to the origins of the Rioja wines since Luciano Murrieta produced in 1852 the first Rioja wine and was also the first one to export his wines. Luciano, appointed Marquis by the King Amadeo of Savoy thanks to his work in Rioja, travelled to Bordeaux to learn the winemaking techniques that he introduced later in Spain. He established the concept of "château" in the Ygay Estate where he built the emblematic Ygay Castle. In 1983 Vicente Cebrián Sagarriga, tenth Count of Creixell, took over the project. He modernized the winery and with his entrepreneurial vocation he continued the legacy of Marqués de Murrieta. After his death his eldest son, Vicente D. Cebrián-Sagarriga, current Count of Creixell, assumed together with his sister Cristina the management of the winery, accompanied by a young and qualified team. Over the years, the Count of Creixell's family has become the perfect continuity to maintain the balance between tradition and modernity positioning Marqués de Murrieta in the 21st century in a privileged position in the world. Pazo de Barrantes Winery is associated to the Counts of Creixell since the beginning of the 20th century although the property is in the hands of the family since 1511. Over the years, the Count of Creixell's family has given its own personality to every wine produced in the winery. In the 1990's the Galician property turns into an estate designed specifically for the albariño growing, the great and noble local grape variety. This enabled the family to join all the efforts to offer a careful and precise winemaking of the albariño in the heart of the Salnés Valley. The construction of the Galician winery at the beginning of the 1990's established a balanced relationship between Pazo Barrantes and the historic Riojan winery founded by the Marquis of Murrieta.

Leeuwin Estate, one of the founding wineries of the now famous Margaret River district, consistently produces wines that rank with the world's finest. In 1972, following an extensive search for the area most suitable to produce the best varietal wines in Australia, legendary American winemaker, Robert Mondavi, identified the future site of the Leeuwin vineyard. Originally a cattle farm, Leeuwin Estate evolved, under the direction of Denis and Tricia Horgan, with Robert Mondavi acting as consultant and mentor. A nursery was planted in 1974 and the initial vineyards were deep-ploughed, deep-ripped, emptied of stone, planned, pegged, measured, marked and eventually planted by hand over a five year period from 1975. Featuring state-of-the art facilities, the winery building was opened in 1978, celebrating with a trial vintage. Leeuwin enjoyed its first commercial vintage in 1979, and was thrust into the international spotlight when Decanter Magazine gave its highest recommendation to the 1980 "Art Series" Chardonnay in an international blind tasting.

The Brajkovich family and Kumeu River Wines is a story that parallels the New Zealand wine industry. From the pioneering days to the establishment of the New Zealand wine industry to today, the Brajkovich family have been internationally recognised as producing world class wine. The Brajkovichs are focused on and internationally recognised as producing world class Chardonnay. Just as the Brajkovich family has grown, so too has the winery itself. Extensions and additions mark the milestones that have seen business adapt and expand over the years. Today, the winery produces around 250,000 bottles annually from 30 hectares of its own vineyards in Kumeu, and another 10 hectares from local growers. The Chardonnay wines of Kumeu River have gained a strong foothold within the international market, receiving outstanding accolades. The vineyard has gone on to become the globally recognised benchmark for non-Burgundy produced Chardonnay.

A passion for the business drove Charles LORENTZ Father to focus on excellence by developing his vineyard on the ALTENBERG hillside in BERGHEIM. Historically, the harvests from these hills with exceptional potential are vinified separately. Thus Riesling, Pinot-Gris, Gewurztraminer and other Muscats native to this Altenberg express this region's unique character from vintage to vintage. The result of this persistent obstinacy was the classification of the vineyard to the rank of Grand Cru in 1983. The second of the Grands Crus owned, more modest in size, is the KANZLERBERG. A rich heir to a long history linked to the Knights of St John and the Order of the Templar, it allows, on its gypsum marl soil, expression of the complex finesse of the Riesling, and more recently the Pinot Gris. We understand, for your enjoyment, that these exceptional wines are, above all, wines with great ageing potential, not revealing their immense potential until some years of rest. According to these rules, our various Bergheim terroirs give the five varieties in our "Cuvée Particulière" range a strong personality: Riesling, Muscat, Pinot-Gris, Gewurztraminer and Pinot Noir are the result of our permanent quest to match the grape variety to the soil and the climate. We have this same concern for the selection of varieties, showing the best of the personality of all our varieties in our "Reserve" and "Millésimé" wine ranges. It is through this experience, which is more than a century old, that we strive to best express our varieties of our unique geology. But depending on the vintage, to exceed the limits by taking the risk of sacrificing some of our more mature grapes, to the vagaries of the weather. When nature is mild, then it will give us the opportunity to get beautiful "Late Harvests" and even more concentrated, our rare "Sélection de Grains Nobles" harvested after successive sorting when the grapes are rotting (botrytis cinerea).

Hervé Kerlann still has vivid childhood memories of hours spent playing in the Maison Peyrat-Chèze's family cellars on the Quai du Priourat in Libourne. His maternal great-great-grandfather, Antoine Chèze, was a man with a strong entrepreneurial streak, like many of his wine trader friends from the Corrèze (Moueix, Borie, Manoux, etc). Like them, he was both a wine trader and vineyard owner, possessing around a hundred hectares of vines and several renowned wine domaines.

In 1988, anticipating the major economic role that the Asia-Pacific region would play in the late 20th century, Hervé moved to Vancouver, devoting himself entirely to the wine business. After sales experiences in Vancouver, he returned to France in 1991 and fell in love with this fine wine region, which had yet to fully develop its Asian export activity. He put his skills into practice in 1993 with the creation of DDD (Direct Domaines Distribution). This small company is still one of the leaders in the marketing and distribution of (mainly Burgundy) fine wines in Asia today.

Produced on the exceptional terroir of Château Montrose and made in the château's winery, Saint-Estèphe de Montrose is the estate's third wine, blended from wines from younger vines and lees wines. Previously available only to the estate's owners and employees, it meets the same uncompromising quality standards as Château Montrose and La Dame de Montrose. From a terroir of gravel over clay subsoil and matured for 12 months with 15% new oak, the wine is a typical Bordeaux blend and may be enjoyed when young.

In 2012, Mr. Hubert de Bouïard de Laforest (of Château Angélus) partners with Mr. Philippe Nunes, the technical director of his Lalande de Pomerol vineyard, La Fleur de Bouïard, with a new common project to great critical success. They acquired with friends an estate of 6.6 hectares, on a clayey and chalky plateau of Saint Sulpice and Cameyrac, as well as on the gravelly clays of Montussan, a perfect terroir for the culture of Merlot. The vines border the famous property Château Reignac, and overhang a small river, La Laurence, from which the château takes its name.

On

194528 'S' DE SIRAN MARGAUX 2015 6X750 $43.95/52.99

September 14th 1428, Guilhem de Siran swore a feudal oath in the church of Macau to the Abbot of Sainte-Croix de Bordeaux, to whom the parish was attached. Ever since that time, generations of the same family have succeeded each other in a spirit of respect for the family wine-growing tradition.

Château Siran is one of the very rare Bordeaux wine estates to have belonged to the same family for over 150 years. S de Siran is the Second Wine of Château Siran, sourced from the vineyard's young plots and from a selection of the First Wine that varies according to the vintage. The average age of the vines is between 5 and 15 years and, depending on the vintage, the volume of S de Siran is 30 to 40% of the total volume of production of the estate's Margaux appellation wine.
